FIRE.—The alarm of fire, at about half past 10 o'clock this morning, was occasioned by a defect in the fitting of a stovepipe in the kitchen chimney of the double dwelling No. 7 Lincoln street, occupied by Mr. Henry Tripp, dentist, and Mr. Jas. Miller, machinist. The fire was confined to the space between the roof and joists of the kitchen ceiling, and was quenched by a plentiful supply of water thrown by the various hose companies, who were promptly on the spot and did good execution. The building is owned by Mr. G. W. Hyatt. The occupants had no insurance, but succeeded in saving their goods. Mrs. Miller, we are informed, had requested her husband to effect an insurance to-day, and he had intended so to do this afternoon.

The damage to the building is principally by water, and will

Imprisonment for Sunday Liquor Dealing.

The first local case of imprisonment under the statute regulating the liquor traffic by licensed dealers, is that of A. V. Pulsifer, Jr., of this city, indicted by the Grand Jury recently in session here, in connection with the June County Court and sessions.

Pulsifer, who, in connection with his father, keeps a saloon on State street, was a regularly licensed dealer and plead guilty to the indictment for selling liquor to the husband of the complainant. He was sentenced by the Court to twenty days imprisonment in the county jail, and although strenuous efforts were made to procure a pardon from the Governor, the application failed, and as the penalty involves no fine—being confined strictly to imprisonment, there is no release except through executive clemency, and this is denied in the present instance.

We understand that this case is the first occurring in this city, under the statute named, and the determination with which the law is enforced should serve as a warning to all concerned.

Those interested will find the statute at section 21, chapter 628, Laws of 1857.

U. S. Commissioner's Court.

David Raynor, of Locke, was brought before U. S. Commissioner Adams, to-day, for violating the Internal Revenue Law in not putting stamps of sufficient denomination upon a certain deed of real estate, given to Edwin Guest, Jr., of Locke, over a year ago.

The defence is, that the parties traded a store for a farm, and that the same was taken irrespective of any agreed valuation, and that the actual value of the farm was no more than the stamps denominated called for, and that the whole proceedings originate in personal quarrels, and are not with any honest intent to benefit the Government, or promote the election of Gen. Grant, nor to give comfort, aid or assistance to the nomination of "Honest Horace." The State of Locke is present in full force. Ass't District Attorney Benze, for U. S.

J. T. Pingree for Def't.

COMPLETION OF THE NEW COMPANIES OF THE 49TH REGIMENT.—On Saturday evening last, Gen. C. D. MacDougall mustered twenty-three more men into companies "I." and "K." of Seneca Falls, N. Y. Both companies have now over fifty members. An election for commissioned officers was held at the same time, and with the following result:

Company "I."
Ira Almy, Captain.
Thomas H. Sibbalds, 1st Lieut.
William T. Smith, 2d Lieut.

Company "K."
Patrick J. Rogers, Captain.
Thomas Martin, 1st Lieut.
William Smith, 2d Lieut.

Captains Almy and Rogers were both in the volunteer service, and Captain Rogers is now District Attorney of Seneca county.

Sup't Lapham, with Messrs. Thayer and Tillinghast, of the New York Central Railroad, were recently in the city, on business connected with the location of a new depot. At least, such is the construction put upon their visit. The assessors viewed the grounds, occupied by the old deserted shops of the Company, and are said to have assessed them, minus the buildings—leaving it to be inferred that such buildings are to come down, and be replaced by a splendid new depot, &c., &c., to suit the desire of those concerned.

Another Humbug Collapsed.

The numerous ticket holders, of this city, in Geo. H. Ellis' Rochester Musical and Distribution Carnival, will have their fears of its worthlessness confirmed by what follows. The rumors that Ellis has absconded are incorrect; but the Rochester Express says: "The failure of the Ellis Carnival appears to be complete. All the property in possession of Ellis has been attached by the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, and is in charge of Mr. Raines, he having leins upon it to secure debts. No promise is given that others, to to whom considerable sums are due, for work done and materials furnished, will receive any part of their claims.

"Mr. Ellis assures every one, that he will retrieve himself, and make a distribution of prizes at some future time, but this appears like a delusion. The scheme has been bitterly opposed by influential parties, and the result is, a loss to all concerned.

Whatever may be the basis of general rumors respecting the failure of the drawing yesterday, which was a disappointment to so many ticket holders, there are facts evidenced by our County Clerk's records, which indicate a transfer by three bills of sale from G. H. Ellis to Thos. Raines, of this city, dated between the 15th of March and the 5th of June, covering the teams, horses, harness and pianos, and which were only filed yesterday morning, at 9:30.

In addition to these, is a chattel mortgage from Ellis to another party, covering all his music, etc.—We are informed that bankruptcy proceedings have been commenced, and injunction secured and served on Ellis this morning, DeL. Crittenden being counsel for petitioning creditor."

A Bird that Sings a Tune.

There is in this city a bird, a bullfinch, which sings a tune complete. It is owned by Morrell Fitch, Esq., who purchased the little vocalist in Philadelphia, during a recent visit to that city. It is known that birds can be taught to execute tunes, and we read that this is chiefly done in the town of Fulda, Germany, where they keep regular educational institutions for bullfinches. They place the young birds into classes of six to ten each, and keep them in the dark, turning a little hand-organ for them when they are fed. Finally, the birds commence to associate the music with the feeding, and when hungry they commence to sing a few notes of the tunes they hear daily. Those who do this are at once placed in a more cheerful room, when some light is admitted. This encourages them and makes them more lively. Then they like to sing and are soon taught more. The most difficult part is the first starting of the birds, some of which have to be kept for a long time in the dark, and on starvation rations, before their obstinacy is overcome. In order to teach them several tunes they receive (after being thus first taught in classes) private instruction from the little boys of Fulda, each of whom has a few private pupils of this sort. Their education lasts nine months, when it is completed, and the birds sent into the world as accomplished performers. The principal markets are London, Paris and New York. They are valued in Europe at $20 for every tune they can sing, so one who can sing three tunes costs $60. In New York they bring even more than that.

—A Mexican dispatch from Matamoras says that agents of the insurgents have been secretly at work in that city, endeavoring to bring about a rising against the Juarist government. They have tampered with the National Guard, offering money to induce them to pronounce against the government. The National Guard have not been paid for some time, and are clamoring for money, but as yet have remained true to their flag.
