

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Whlow Bedok-Shimer's Opera House, Feb 18 C. Bulckw. Moravia-Burlew Black to Rect.

BRIEF MENTION.

Cloudy and rainy weather may be expected to-day. (Climb chowder this Saturday) evening at Gregory & Grayes.

Grand opening to-night at Kane & Kiley, 56 State street. Alert those 3 will hold their next masquerade Friday, February 18th.

The Wilkinson's this evening at the Academy of Music in East Lynn. Bear in mind the Wilkinson's in East Lynn at the Academy of Music to-night.

Bro. Kenyon crucily observes: "The folks must next Monday, and so do lovers." For a mile or more the Central-Hudson road has been Westport and Jordan are crowded.

The regular business meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held on Monday, Feb. 14 at 3 P. M. in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A.

To-morrow will be Septuagesima Sunday or the third Sunday before Lent. No called because it is seventy days from Easter.

Last-A boy's black overcoat, between Hamilton and Union avenue. The finder will confer a favor by leaving it at this office for James Gilton.

Assemblyman Tutbill has introduced a bill providing for the imprisonment in the State Prison persons convicted of murder in the first degree.

For the past few days Auburnians have been enjoying a little forecast of spring, but they need not cling to the delusion that winter has departed for there is some pratty cold weather yet to come.

A petition with the signature of 235 ladies allied requesting the election of the town of Springport for the no license excise commission, is among the curiosities in the current issues of the Lion Springs Advertiser.

Mr. Draper introduced a bill in the assembly Thursday which provides that all the supervisors of the several towns and wards in cities of the state to be hereafter elected shall be elected and hold office for a term of two years.

It is a matter of regret that the executor of St. John's Church, was not more largely republished by the fine performance of the amateur. Wednesday evening at the Academy of Music. The repetition of the entertainment should be a financial success.

MORRELL BUYS A TICKET

AND SHOWS HOW LOTTERY DEALERS EVADE THE LAW

The Undressed Envelope and What It Contained-Something About Salted-Peter Cooper's Birthdays-The Affected Fool.

New York Dec. 11. I thought a lottery ticket this week, you smile don't you and you are kind enough to pity my cruculous verandcy wait a little, and let me tell you how it was!

A gentleman came into my office Monday and said: "There is something to be seen in this city to-day that is worth your while as a newspaper man. Now this afternoon as you go up town, I want you to walk up Broadway to number 100-and-so and go in and buy a ticket." Now I have an old-fashioned habit of asking what things cost before I buy them. I contracted this habit before I got to cutting off coupons every month, like Vanderbilt. So I said to this gentleman:

"What do the tickets cost?" And he said $2. I had two dollars that I could afford to lay by, so I walked up Broadway that afternoon and stopped as he had directed. The offices are reached by going up two flights of stairs, where two whole floors are devoted to the business. The stairways were crowded with men, women and boys.

Inside the offices was a crowd of a miscellaneous character. The men, as they met each other, tried to look uninterested, and wore the same expression that the young man assumes who tells his girl that he has just gone outside "the theatre." There were business men who had taken a moment from their offices to secure their ticket before the day of the drawing. I knew this because they were without their overcoats, and some had pen or pencil over their ears, and had their coats, mostly clad in poor attire, and boys too, and little uniformed messengers who were there to lay for those who would not have it known that they gambled in lottery.

I went up to a little hole in the wall, over which was printed "cashier," and through which I saw the face of a good fellow. I laid down on the floor, and the all. The good-looking young fellow looked up at me and smiled in a superior, pitying sort of way. I felt right away that I had done the wrong thing, and I displayed my ignorance. By the way, how we mortals do hate to be laughed at! He told me to wait a moment, and he had a short while to do. I felt that it was making fun of me to my face, and I thought it a bit cruel, seeing that I was waiting up the money. But I asked a blank and then he took it and asked me if I wanted one whole, or two half tickets. I boldly asserted that one whole ticket would do.

He put it in a box and then he said: "Mr. Morrello, number 100-and-so, so as to evade the law. After this he pushed the filled out blank, together with my money and an envelope, toward me with an air which said: "That's a!" But I was puzzled some more, and I guess he was for his said. He put the envelope in my hand, and I was just making an experiment. I made up my mind I'd give the $2, rather than be humiliated some more. I slid the envelope into the box and then I said myself out of the place. The next day there was a plain envelope in my mail. It was addressed in a hand which I will not give out here. It contained my lottery ticket, No. 56160. The capital prize is $30,000. Now if some speculative person will give me $2 for my chance in that prize they are welcome to the $29,998 they make, and I shall be well pleased to have back the investment made in this business that the Rev. Dr. Crosby, with dabby energy, is attempting to abolish. I could tell the reverend gentleman that his efforts are headed off by a big and powerful expenditure of money.

In the drawing, for which the ticket I have referred to is issued, there are all 400 tickets, and there are $100,000 sold at $2 each, $200,000. Here is a confessed profit of $50,000 on one monthly drawing. And this is only one company operating in this city. There are four or five others, each of which has a week's sale of tickets. Here is one week's profit and the managers expend liberally to defeat the law. I could give you the names of two judges in this city who receive a stated and regular remittance from these companies. You would not publish them for fear of libel, so I will spare the names of writing them out. Then there are policemen, one each at the grand jury room, at the court of general sessions, and at the district attorney's office, who are paid by the lottery companies to report at once anything that appears to threaten the lottery interests at all. There are the judges to which I refer, and they are lately to issue his warrant for arrest for a lottery firm through two men stood before him with tickets in their hands and swore as to where they had bought them. Dr. Crosby's feeble spasms of effort will avail little against such organized bribery. Gentlemen who now feel that to attempt to legislate is degrading, and that primary and become more and more annually active before the root of this evil can be reached. I don't believe Dr. Crosby would do this, if he knew he could, by so doing crush the sin which he raises his kid gloves hands to deplore.

DEGENERATE SALARIES appropos of politics, is the assertion of a New York congressman the other day as he was going to the office. He was under Gardner and the cash return that they bring. "Why," he exclaimed, "outside the presidency itself and some judicial places, there is not an office in the government worth the strife of an honest man. The New York custom house is not regarded as worth over $12,000 a year. An ordinary lawyer can make more than an honest district attorney. If a man can pay the expense of running for congress and afterwards his board at Washington, he is lucky. If these offices were held under a lottery, there might be a computation of results with careful living. As it is, the professional politicians and those who have a pe-

THE NEW THROUGH ROUTE

THE RAILROAD MEN HURT PROPOSES TO BUILD TO THE WEST.

A Great Undertaking-The Boston, Hoosac and Western Railroad read With its Extension and Connections-Where it Comes This Country.

The Boston Journal has the following to say of a syndicate formed to invest $25,000,000 in a through railroad line from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo. As the route of the contemplated road is laid through the northern part of the county the matter parities of a local interest. The Journal says:

"The Journal has recently given the particulars of the recent purchase of the Syracuse, Chenango and New York railroad and that of the Syracuse, Phoenix and Oswego road. And now we have the assurance that the syndicate which General Burt represents has secured the controlling interest in the Boston, Hoosac Tunnel and Western railway, the payment of $600,000 for this purpose having been made this morning.

By the last report of this road, it was shown that the capital stock paid-in was only $170,000, its floating debt $1,540,000. The road was then completed from the state line to Mechanicville, 40 miles. The extension to Schenectady, some 20 miles, is now being constructed, and this is to be at once assumed by the syndicate, who also propose to extend the road to Utica at once, the charter of the purchased road covering that distance.

The roads already purchased it is proposed to consolidate into a corporation, with others yet to be constructed, the Boston, Troy and Western, to which will also be added the Troy and Saratoga Springs railway, 20 miles in length now in course of construction. The Utica and Syracuse Air Line of 50 miles in length; this line has been located and contracts for a large portion of it given out. The Syracuse and Chenango and New York, which runs for four miles through the city of Syracuse and owns valuable real estate at that point. It also connects in the heart of the city with the Syracuse, Phoenix and Oswego, which has a road bed graded for 22 miles along the valley of the Seneca river, and the Utica and International Bridge is to be constructed through Westport, Montezuma, etc., and consolidated with the other roads mentioned into one corporation, which, with the tunnel, will comprise some 400 miles of road. These roads will be under the management of the New York and Vermont Central, the present charter of the Boston, Hoosac Tunnel and Western, with some modifications, covering them all.

For the purpose of carrying out this enterprise a construction company has been formed with a capital of $10,000,000, through which the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo. It is understood that the scheme proposes to furnish the funds to double track the Tunnel road, and also to build a connection with the South Boston tracks, which will be the longest of the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo. It is understood that the scheme proposes to furnish the funds to double track the Tunnel road, and also to build a connection with the South Boston tracks, which will be the longest of the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo.

It is understood that the scheme proposes to furnish the funds to double track the Tunnel road, and also to build a connection with the South Boston tracks, which will be the longest of the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo. It is understood that the scheme proposes to furnish the funds to double track the Tunnel road, and also to build a connection with the South Boston tracks, which will be the longest of the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo.

It is understood that the scheme proposes to furnish the funds to double track the Tunnel road, and also to build a connection with the South Boston tracks, which will be the longest of the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo. It is understood that the scheme proposes to furnish the funds to double track the Tunnel road, and also to build a connection with the South Boston tracks, which will be the longest of the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo.

It is understood that the scheme proposes to furnish the funds to double track the Tunnel road, and also to build a connection with the South Boston tracks, which will be the longest of the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo. It is understood that the scheme proposes to furnish the funds to double track the Tunnel road, and also to build a connection with the South Boston tracks, which will be the longest of the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo.

It is understood that the scheme proposes to furnish the funds to double track the Tunnel road, and also to build a connection with the South Boston tracks, which will be the longest of the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo. It is understood that the scheme proposes to furnish the funds to double track the Tunnel road, and also to build a connection with the South Boston tracks, which will be the longest of the necessary capital to secure a double track through lines from Boston to Oswego and Buffalo.

CLIMBING THE HILL.

An Auburn Man's Career-How He Has Succeeded in Business

In the January number of the Chilling World, a periodical published at Buffalo, in the interest of the grain and flour trade, appears an interesting article, descriptive of the building and business operations of a new flouring mill which has been recently erected by H. B. Rathbun & Son, of Mill Point, Ontario.

Mr. Rathbun is well known in this city being many years engaged in the dry goods trade here of the firm of Rathbun & Clary. His son the junior partner of the firm is a native of Auburn and spent his boy-hood days here, so that a little sketch of their business successes will not be uninteresting to a large number of our readers of the Auburnian.

About thirty years ago a party of Auburn capitalists, purchased the lumber mill at Mill Point, Ontario on the Bay of Quinte. H. B. Rathbun being one of the number. The speculation not proving as successful as desired, the members of the company withdrew their interest with the exception of Mr. Rathbun, who remained at the whole concern and remained at Mill Point to give it his personal supervision. A few years subsequently his eldest son, on reaching his majority, was admitted into the firm. The business grew and extended over the skillful manipulation and the active management of the junior member of the firm, till it has reached the following proportions as described by the "Chilling World" from which the following extract is made. After alluding to the change Mill Point had undergone since the Messrs. Rathbun's connection with it, from a little hamlet to a place of some importance, it says: "The saw mill originally erected and operated by them has grown to immense proportions and has been supplemented by machine shops, planing mills, cedar mills, stove mills, ship yards, grain elevators, etc. Extensive warehouses, substantially constructed docks, line of sailing and steam vessels have been rendered necessary to the proper prosecution of the immense business. A branch railroad of three miles, connecting with the Grand Trunk has also been constructed." The article in the Chilling World is quite an extended one, and space forbids further extract.

The more of the Canadian flour was probably the inducement which led the Messrs. Rathbun to make such an addition of so different a character, to their extensive lumber business, they having during their Canadian residence mostly received their supply for home use from the United States, our products being considered superior. The Milling World says the new venture of the Messrs. Rathbun is also proving eminently successful.

FAIR MEET. Held and to be Held. Fair Haver, Feb. 10.-The republican electors of the town of Sterling met in caucus at Sterling Center to-day, and placed its ticket in the field. The organization was effected by the appointment of E. R. Robinson as chairman, M. McDonald and A. H. Bayer, secretaries, Harmon Van Paten and Moses Bridges, tellers. The nominations are as follows: For Supervisor, E. R. Robinson; Town Clerk, Jonas Byer; Justice of the Peace, Isaac Barst; Assessor, James Bennett; Overseers of Poor, Harmon Van Paten and Luke Becker; Commissioner of Highways, John Cackran; Collector, H. M. Reed; Inspectors of Election, Edgar M. Lyon and Moses Bridges; Constables, Henry C. Culver, Henry E. Rogers, Thomas Barsha, Frank Hillman, and Emerson Irwin; Game Warden, Frederick Van Paten. The chair appointed F. F. Allen, O. F. Miller and C. W. Crossman, town committee. The roads were in an impassable condition, nevertheless the caucus was largely attended, and for Sterling, very harmonious. Our popular supervisor met with some of the pioneer's aid, and our speaker speaks well of his credit. His ability has placed him in the front rank of local law makers and by a growing popularity we expect to see him reap still higher honors. Altogether the ticket is a strong one and gives general satisfaction. Mac.

KELOGGVILLE, Feb. 10.-The republicans held their caucus, this afternoon, at H. C. Smith's, and the following nominations were made: For supervisor, C. O. Abbott; for justice of the peace, Elias Ackerman; for collector, Oscar Brown; for commissioner of highways, Addison Chamberlain. Other nominations were made, but the above are for the most important positions. FOR BYRON. Port Byron, Feb. 10.-The party caucuses for the nomination of candidates to be supported next Tuesday, town meeting day, have been held at the residence of J. P. M. at 3 P. M. and the republicans at 3 P. M. at Masonic Hall.

ACRELIUS. The republican electors of Acrelius will meet at Half Acre, at 2 o'clock P. M., February 14, Monday. The Late Henry H. Fitch. The following notice of the death of Henry B. Fitch, formerly of this city, a son of Abijah Fitch is from the Elmira Advertiser: Henry B. Fitch died in New York Yesterday, aged forty-seven years, of a throat difficulty, relief from which he had in vain sought by sojourns in the Adirondacks and by treatment from the best physicians. Mr. Fitch had been gone from Elmira for four years, having come here from Auburn. He engaged in business here where the Davis Iron Works Company now are, in the manufacture of the Howland carburetted stove, of which the front of the block at the North-east corner of State and Water streets is constructed. Mr. Fitch having furnished the material. The deceased married a niece of Mr. John T. Rathbun, of this city, and daughter of Mr. J. W. Rathbun, of Auburn. He wife survives him, and also a son, Henry A. Fitch, with Godrich & Hendrick, and a daughter, Belle A. Fitch in New York. The funeral was held from the First Presbyterian Church, this afternoon.

PERSONALS. -William A. Smith of Beach Avenue laughs because it's a bouncing boy baby. -Rev. B. I. Ives will deliver his lecture "Trip in the Great Valley" at Fleming on Tuesday evening next. -James Dimon, son of Dr. Theodore Dimon, Superintendent of the Insane Asylum, is home on a visit to his parents. Mr. Dimon is engaged in the architectural profession at Albany. -Wednesday night, in Auburn, Ed. J. Jewhurst was nominated for Chief Justice of the Department. Chief Justice Jewhurst has proved to be the right man for the place, and will please accept our congratulations. -Lecturer's List. -Major Samuel Titus-it may be written Mayor Samuel Titus before long-left for Saratoga this morning to settle up his mother's estate. -Mr. Lyon of Lyon Elliott & Bloom has gone to New York on business connected with the spring trade. Both Sides of the Question. The Young Men's Christian Association of Auburn, are undoubtedly a set of humorists. When a prisoner in the county jail asks to see a copy of the Westport Chief, they carry him a Bible also-that he may see and read both sides of the question, we suppose. -Moravia Register. -Services at the Universalist Church at usual hours, to-morrow. Mr. St. John's evening subject will be "The Gospel of Morality."

GLIMPSES OF CITY LIFE

OF A WIND-MILL MAN.

Minor Photographs Thrown From the Auburnian's Camera.

A Batch of Newry Items of Importance Condensed by Wide Awake Reporters.

Miss Frances R. How of this city gave a very brilliant party to her two classes of pupils on Thursday evening last in Lincoln. The Journal says: "The smaller one held the floor in square and round dancing from 8 o'clock until the children of a larger growth could no longer withstand the witchery of the occasion and from kindly aiding the children in filling out sets relegated the infants to their seats and usurped the crashed floor. The merry whirrs and profound obeisances continued until midnight. The gathering was very nice, the surroundings and auxiliaries perfect and Miss How's first public lesson is noted by participants fitted to rank with the navy balls.

A Wall Street Surprise. Charles Tourneur and his household on Wall street, were the recipients of a pleasant visit last evening, from thirty or forty of those who were their neighbors when they lived up over East Hill. All sorts of games, refreshments, and social pleasures made the time pass rapidly and joyfully for all hands. "Copenhagen" was one of the games of the evening in which groceryman Ed. Westcott and Justice Kennedy, two old heads, who were full of fire as a pair of two year old colts, acquitted themselves with special honor.

A Saucy Beggar. A mendicant named Bacon, an old soldier, who has been soliciting money and clothing from the citizens of Auburn for several days past, was gobbled by the police this morning. Bacon made poor use of the articles given him by selling them and converting the proceeds of the sale into whisky. He was also very saucy and impudent to parties who refused him assistance and it was deemed advisable to lock him up.

St. Mary's Literary Association. The following is the list of lecturers who will lecture in this city under the auspices of St. Mary's Literary Association: February 17th, Rev. J. Walsh, of Albany; subject, "Divorce." February 23rd, Rev. J. J. Lickey, of Lyons; subject, "The Triumph of Charity." March 6th, Rev. John Shanahan, St. John's Church, Fordham, N. Y. March 13th, Rev. Bishop Shanahan, Harrisburg, Pa. April 24th, Rev. Joseph F. Mooney, Newburg, N. Y. subject, "Catholic Organizations."

Escaped From the Penitentiary. The notorious Jack Somers was sentenced, in recorder's court, yesterday, to a fine of $20 or a sojourn of 70 days in the Syracuse house. The fine was not forthcoming and constant Moleville, acting under a commission from Sheriff Choate, started to take Somers to the penitentiary. At the depot, some of the prisoner's pals were found, who paid the $20, and Somers was stripped of his iron jewelry and allowed to depart.

Extension of Business. A new front is being put into the store lately occupied by S. H. Arnett, on Geneva street, and so soon as that and other improvements are completed, C. Lawlor will occupy the store for an extension of his business. A large part of the wall between Mr. Lawlor's present store and the one he will have will be taken down, so that the two stores will be practically one.

Death of an Old Auburnian. The death of Simon Dennison Rockwell, an old and well known printer, is announced as occurring at Buffalo, yesterday morning. He moved to Buffalo from this city, where he learned his trade, about twenty-five years ago, since which time he carried on the job printing. He had many friends who will sincerely regret his death.

Young People's Union. The regular meeting of the Young People's Union was held at their hall, last evening. Dr. C. C. Button and Rev. Julius Robbins addressed the meeting, and Miss Annie Suydam, of Geneva, the Serpente of Wednesday evening sang a solo very finely even with the disadvantage of having no accompaniment, the organ being removed for repairs.

CLIMBING THE HILL.

An Auburn Man's Career-How He Has Succeeded in Business

In the January number of the Chilling World, a periodical published at Buffalo, in the interest of the grain and flour trade, appears an interesting article, descriptive of the building and business operations of a new flouring mill which has been recently erected by H. B. Rathbun & Son, of Mill Point, Ontario.

Mr. Rathbun is well known in this city being many years engaged in the dry goods trade here of the firm of Rathbun & Clary. His son the junior partner of the firm is a native of Auburn and spent his boy-hood days here, so that a little sketch of their business successes will not be uninteresting to a large number of our readers of the Auburnian.

About thirty years ago a party of Auburn capitalists, purchased the lumber mill at Mill Point, Ontario on the Bay of Quinte. H. B. Rathbun being one of the number. The speculation not proving as successful as desired, the members of the company withdrew their interest with the exception of Mr. Rathbun, who remained at the whole concern and remained at Mill Point to give it his personal supervision. A few years subsequently his eldest son, on reaching his majority, was admitted into the firm. The business grew and extended over the skillful manipulation and the active management of the junior member of the firm, till it has reached the following proportions as described by the "Chilling World" from which the following extract is made. After alluding to the change Mill Point had undergone since the Messrs. Rathbun's connection with it, from a little hamlet to a place of some importance, it says: "The saw mill originally erected and operated by them has grown to immense proportions and has been supplemented by machine shops, planing mills, cedar mills, stove mills, ship yards, grain elevators, etc. Extensive warehouses, substantially constructed docks, line of sailing and steam vessels have been rendered necessary to the proper prosecution of the immense business. A branch railroad of three miles, connecting with the Grand Trunk has also been constructed." The article in the Chilling World is quite an extended one, and space forbids further extract.

The more of the Canadian flour was probably the inducement which led the Messrs. Rathbun to make such an addition of so different a character, to their extensive lumber business, they having during their Canadian residence mostly received their supply for home use from the United States, our products being considered superior. The Milling World says the new venture of the Messrs. Rathbun is also proving eminently successful.

FAIR MEET. Held and to be Held. Fair Haver, Feb. 10.-The republican electors of the town of Sterling met in caucus at Sterling Center to-day, and placed its ticket in the field. The organization was effected by the appointment of E. R. Robinson as chairman, M. McDonald and A. H. Bayer, secretaries, Harmon Van Paten and Moses Bridges, tellers. The nominations are as follows: For Supervisor, E. R. Robinson; Town Clerk, Jonas Byer; Justice of the Peace, Isaac Barst; Assessor, James Bennett; Overseers of Poor, Harmon Van Paten and Luke Becker; Commissioner of Highways, John Cackran; Collector, H. M. Reed; Inspectors of Election, Edgar M. Lyon and Moses Bridges; Constables, Henry C. Culver, Henry E. Rogers, Thomas Barsha, Frank Hillman, and Emerson Irwin; Game Warden, Frederick Van Paten. The chair appointed F. F. Allen, O. F. Miller and C. W. Crossman, town committee. The roads were in an impassable condition, nevertheless the caucus was largely attended, and for Sterling, very harmonious. Our popular supervisor met with some of the pioneer's aid, and our speaker speaks well of his credit. His ability has placed him in the front rank of local law makers and by a growing popularity we expect to see him reap still higher honors. Altogether the ticket is a strong one and gives general satisfaction. Mac.

KELOGGVILLE, Feb. 10.-The republicans held their caucus, this afternoon, at H. C. Smith's, and the following nominations were made: For supervisor, C. O. Abbott; for justice of the peace, Elias Ackerman; for collector, Oscar Brown; for commissioner of highways, Addison Chamberlain. Other nominations were made, but the above are for the most important positions. FOR BYRON. Port Byron, Feb. 10.-The party caucuses for the nomination of candidates to be supported next Tuesday, town meeting day, have been held at the residence of J. P. M. at 3 P. M. and the republicans at 3 P. M. at Masonic Hall.

ACRELIUS. The republican electors of Acrelius will meet at Half Acre, at 2 o'clock P. M., February 14, Monday. The Late Henry H. Fitch. The following notice of the death of Henry B. Fitch, formerly of this city, a son of Abijah Fitch is from the Elmira Advertiser: Henry B. Fitch died in New York Yesterday, aged forty-seven years, of a throat difficulty, relief from which he had in vain sought by sojourns in the Adirondacks and by treatment from the best physicians. Mr. Fitch had been gone from Elmira for four years, having come here from Auburn. He engaged in business here where the Davis Iron Works Company now are, in the manufacture of the Howland carburetted stove, of which the front of the block at the North-east corner of State and Water streets is constructed. Mr. Fitch having furnished the material. The deceased married a niece of Mr. John T. Rathbun, of this city, and daughter of Mr. J. W. Rathbun, of Auburn. He wife survives him, and also a son, Henry A. Fitch, with Godrich & Hendrick, and a daughter, Belle A. Fitch in New York. The funeral was held from the First Presbyterian Church, this afternoon.

PERSONALS. -William A. Smith of Beach Avenue laughs because it's a bouncing boy baby. -Rev. B. I. Ives will deliver his lecture "Trip in the Great Valley" at Fleming on Tuesday evening next. -James Dimon, son of Dr. Theodore Dimon, Superintendent of the Insane Asylum, is home on a visit to his parents. Mr. Dimon is engaged in the architectural profession at Albany. -Wednesday night, in Auburn, Ed. J. Jewhurst was nominated for Chief Justice of the Department. Chief Justice Jewhurst has proved to be the right man for the place, and will please accept our congratulations. -Lecturer's List. -Major Samuel Titus-it may be written Mayor Samuel Titus before long-left for Saratoga this morning to settle up his mother's estate. -Mr. Lyon of Lyon Elliott & Bloom has gone to New York on business connected with the spring trade. Both Sides of the Question. The Young Men's Christian Association of Auburn, are undoubtedly a set of humorists. When a prisoner in the county jail asks to see a copy of the Westport Chief, they carry him a Bible also-that he may see and read both sides of the question, we suppose. -Moravia Register. -Services at the Universalist Church at usual hours, to-morrow. Mr. St. John's evening subject will be "The Gospel of Morality."

CLIMBING THE HILL. An Auburn Man's Career-How He Has Succeeded in Business. In the January number of the Chilling World, a periodical published at Buffalo, in the interest of the grain and flour trade, appears an interesting article, descriptive of the building and business operations of a new flouring mill which has been recently erected by H. B. Rathbun & Son, of Mill Point, Ontario. Mr. Rathbun is well known in this city being many years engaged in the dry goods trade here of the firm of Rathbun & Clary. His son the junior partner of the firm is a native of Auburn and spent his boy-hood days here, so that a little sketch of their business successes will not be uninteresting to a large number of our readers of the Auburnian. About thirty years ago a party of Auburn capitalists, purchased the lumber mill at Mill Point, Ontario on the Bay of Quinte. H. B. Rathbun being one of the number. The speculation not proving as successful as desired, the members of the company withdrew their interest with the exception of Mr. Rathbun, who remained at the whole concern and remained at Mill Point to give it his personal supervision. A few years subsequently his eldest son, on reaching his majority, was admitted into the firm. The business grew and extended over the skillful manipulation and the active management of the junior member of the firm, till it has reached the following proportions as described by the "Chilling World" from which the following extract is made. After alluding to the change Mill Point had undergone since the Messrs. Rathbun's connection with it, from a little hamlet to a place of some importance, it says: "The saw mill originally erected and operated by them has grown to immense proportions and has been supplemented by machine shops, planing mills, cedar mills, stove mills, ship yards, grain elevators, etc. Extensive warehouses, substantially constructed docks, line of sailing and steam vessels have been rendered necessary to the proper prosecution of the immense business. A branch railroad of three miles, connecting with the Grand Trunk has also been constructed." The article in the Chilling World is quite an extended one, and space forbids further extract. The more of the Canadian flour was probably the inducement which led the Messrs. Rathbun to make such an addition of so different a character, to their extensive lumber business, they having during their Canadian residence mostly received their supply for home use from the United States, our products being considered superior. The Milling World says the new venture of the Messrs. Rathbun is also proving eminently successful.

FAIR MEET. Held and to be Held. Fair Haver, Feb. 10.-The republican electors of the town of Sterling met in caucus at Sterling Center to-day, and placed its ticket in the field. The organization was effected by the appointment of E. R. Robinson as chairman, M. McDonald and A. H. Bayer, secretaries, Harmon Van Paten and Moses Bridges, tellers. The nominations are as follows: For Supervisor, E. R. Robinson; Town Clerk, Jonas Byer; Justice of the Peace, Isaac Barst; Assessor, James Bennett; Overseers of Poor, Harmon Van Paten and Luke Becker; Commissioner of Highways, John Cackran; Collector, H. M. Reed; Inspectors of Election, Edgar M. Lyon and Moses Bridges; Constables, Henry C. Culver, Henry E. Rogers, Thomas Barsha, Frank Hillman, and Emerson Irwin; Game Warden, Frederick Van Paten. The chair appointed F. F. Allen, O. F. Miller and C. W. Crossman, town committee. The roads were in an impassable condition, nevertheless the caucus was largely attended, and for Sterling, very harmonious. Our popular supervisor met with some of the pioneer's aid, and our speaker speaks well of his credit. His ability has placed him in the front rank of local law makers and by a growing popularity we expect to see him reap still higher honors. Altogether the ticket is a strong one and gives general satisfaction. Mac.

GLIMPSES OF CITY LIFE

OF A WIND-MILL MAN.

Minor Photographs Thrown From the Auburnian's Camera.

A Batch of Newry Items of Importance Condensed by Wide Awake Reporters.

Miss Frances R. How of this city gave a very brilliant party to her two classes of pupils on Thursday evening last in Lincoln. The Journal says: "The smaller one held the floor in square and round dancing from 8 o'clock until the children of a larger growth could no longer withstand the witchery of the occasion and from kindly aiding the children in filling out sets relegated the infants to their seats and usurped the crashed floor. The merry whirrs and profound obeisances continued until midnight. The gathering was very nice, the surroundings and auxiliaries perfect and Miss How's first public lesson is noted by participants fitted to rank with the navy balls.

A Wall Street Surprise. Charles Tourneur and his household on Wall street, were the recipients of a pleasant visit last evening, from thirty or forty of those who were their neighbors when they lived up over East Hill. All sorts of games, refreshments, and social pleasures made the time pass rapidly and joyfully for all hands. "Copenhagen" was one of the games of the evening in which groceryman Ed. Westcott and Justice Kennedy, two old heads, who were full of fire as a pair of two year old colts, acquitted themselves with special honor.

A Saucy Beggar. A mendicant named Bacon, an old soldier, who has been soliciting money and clothing from the citizens of Auburn for several days past, was gobbled by the police this morning. Bacon made poor use of the articles given him by selling them and converting the proceeds of the sale into whisky. He was also very saucy and impudent to parties who refused him assistance and it was deemed advisable to lock him up.

St. Mary's Literary Association. The following is the list of lecturers who will lecture in this city under the auspices of St. Mary's Literary Association: February 17th, Rev. J. Walsh, of Albany; subject, "Divorce." February 23rd, Rev. J. J. Lickey, of Lyons; subject, "The Triumph of Charity." March 6th, Rev. John Shanahan, St. John's Church, Fordham, N. Y. March 13th, Rev. Bishop Shanahan, Harrisburg, Pa. April 24th, Rev. Joseph F. Mooney, Newburg, N. Y. subject, "Catholic Organizations."

Escaped From the Penitentiary. The notorious Jack Somers was sentenced, in recorder's court, yesterday, to a fine of $20 or a sojourn of 70 days in the Syracuse house. The fine was not forthcoming and constant Moleville, acting under a commission from Sheriff Choate, started to take Somers to the penitentiary. At the depot, some of the prisoner's pals were found, who paid the $20, and Somers was stripped of his iron jewelry and allowed to depart.

Extension of Business. A new front is being put into the store lately occupied by S. H. Arnett, on Geneva street, and so soon as that and other improvements are completed, C. Lawlor will occupy the store for an extension of his business. A large part of the wall between Mr. Lawlor's present store and the one he will have will be taken down, so that the two stores will be practically one.

Death of an Old Auburnian. The death of Simon Dennison Rockwell, an old and well known printer, is announced as occurring at Buffalo, yesterday morning. He moved to Buffalo from this city, where he learned his trade, about twenty-five years ago, since which time he carried on the job printing. He had many friends who will sincerely regret his death.

Young People's Union. The regular meeting of the Young People's Union was held at their hall, last evening. Dr. C. C. Button and Rev. Julius Robbins addressed the meeting, and Miss Annie Suydam, of Geneva, the Serpente of Wednesday evening sang a solo very finely even with the disadvantage of having no accompaniment, the organ being removed for repairs.