

BUREAU AGENT HAS BUSY WEEK

Lee Outlines Schedule of Farm Meetings for Cayuga County.

L. F. Lee, manager of the Farm Bureau, has outlined a busy schedule for the coming week. For the last few days he has been confining his activities to the north end of the county. This week will be devoted to gatherings in both sections. Today and Tuesday will be spent at the office arranging plans for the later in the week meetings and for the securing of talent to address the gatherings.

Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock a community meeting will be held at VanMarter's hall, Genoa, at which Prof. L. M. Hurd of the department of poultry husbandry, New York State Agricultural College, Ithaca, will give a lecture and demonstration on poultry marketing. At this same meeting S. N. Swartwout, state hay inspector, will deliver a talk on hay grading. Byron Arnold of Genoa will preside at the meeting.

Wednesday evening the community committee will hold East Genoa at the home of Bert Smith. Prof. Charles Taylor and a number of students of the Agriculture College, Ithaca, will attend. This committee is one of the banner committees working in conjunction with the Farm Bureau and the Ithaca students will receive some pointers on how the work of this organization is carried on. Prof. Taylor will give a lengthy talk on farm bureau activities.

Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock another poultry marketing demonstration and lecture will take place at the King Ferry High School. This will be similar to the one held at Genoa. Prof. Hurd and Mr. Swartwout will address the meeting.

Prof. E. J. Randall, principal of the school will preside. Friday a meeting of the same character will be held at the Grange hall in Weedsport.

Friday evening Mr. Lee will attend community meeting held in the Town of Victory at which he will discuss the benefits derived from membership in the Farm Bureau. He will outline the work accomplished in the past and that scheduled for the future which will be carried out for the betterment of the farmer and conditions with which he must cope. A moving picture will be shown depicting scenes taken from rural life. Rev. H. A. Sloan, chairman of the Community committee, will be in charge.

An organization committee meeting will be held in Sterling Center at which the Genoa committee leaders will attend. Members of the committee from the southern part of the county will explain to their northern neighbors how the community committee was organized and the success it has attained in the short while of its existence. Rev. Raymond Cox will preside at this gathering.

COLUMBIAN CLUB DANCING PARTY PROVES BEST YET

The dance party held by the Columbian Athletic & Social Club Saturday evening in their well equipped rooms on the fourth floor of the Metcalf Bldg., was unquestionably the finest event of its kind, yet held by the club. Between 40 and 50 couples enjoyed the evening's entertainment.

The committee judged Fred Blake and Miss Esther Stebbins the best-waltzing couple and the judgment was amply vindicated by the applause of the many prizes. The drawing for the door prize was won by Earl Turner. Tester's "Rainbow 4" orchestra furnished the music of the evening and many encores were rendered.

The committee having these dancing parties in charge aims to make them strictly high-class dances in every respect. Club members and other employees of the Columbian Rope Co., together with their friends and other invited guests are cordially welcomed. Refreshments are served at each party and novelties are being introduced from time to time. The special lighting effects at last week's party were particularly pleasing.

The fifth of the series of "Better" parties will be held next Saturday evening. Dancing commences at 8:45 and stops at 12 o'clock sharp. Such profits as are derived from these dances are to be turned into the athletic treasury for use next season in maintaining a strong baseball team.

TWO BURGLARIES IN WEEDSPORT BAFFLE SLEUTHS

Department Store and Garage Are the Victims of Thieves. Family.

Sheriff Fay Teeter and Under Sheriff Thomas M. Walker were in Weedsport this morning investigating burglaries at the Chaffee-Weedsport Department store and the Central Garage in that village some time early this morning.

In the Chaffee store the safe was found open. A number of checks and about $300 in currency were reported missing by the proprietor. The first report received in Auburn was that the safe was blown open. The county sleuths are not of the opinion that the safe was blown, and they were unable to secure complete evidence that the strong box had been locked.

Before the Chaffee place was entered the safe at the Central Garage was entered and $30 in change was taken away together with a check of notes aggregating $1,000. A screw driver identified as garage tool was found in the Chaffee store, indicating that the garage was entered first and the scene of operations shifted to the big department store.

Messrs. Teeter and Walker were unable to get any definite clues as to who the burglars might be. They are of the opinion that the jobs might have been done by members of the gang which has been operating in Onondaga County and warning about which the sheriff of that county has issued with a caution of unusual care on the part of the rural merchants and residents.

MEMORIAL DRIVE IS BEGUN TODAY

Committee Seeks Funds for Memorial to Late President Harding.

Active work on behalf of the President Harding Memorial Campaign, which has been launched in Cayuga County, as well as in other parts of the country, began today under the auspices of a committee headed by County Judge Edgar S. Mosher as chairman. Subscriptions were being received by William Denman, treasurer of the committee. Harry O. Worden is secretary. Others on the committee are: Clarence L. Dump, Rev. Kenneth R. Bowen, Miles Hanlon, A. J. Lauer, Weir Stewart, R. J. Anderson.

The intensive portion of the campaign will be from December 9 to 16. Funds will be secured through popular subscriptions toward the erection of a suitable memorial to Harding at Marion, Ohio, and the committee will co-operate in other ways with the national movement to commemorate the late president, this week.

Persons who give toward the campaign will be recognized with suitable certificates in presentation of their donations. Members of the committee announce. The committee met yesterday afternoon and made plans for extending the campaign. It was decided to ask the cooperation of the Kiwanis, Rotary and of various fraternal organizations, in view of the interest which President Harding took in fraternities.

Judge Mosher explained the Harding Memorial movement, which is of national-wide scope, in the Central Church of Christ, Disciples, last evening. Rev. Kenneth R. Bowen, pastor of the church, spoke to a congregation of the subject, and requested that pastors of the other local churches present it to their parishioners as soon as possible. Mr. Bowen declared that the movement is entirely non-political and that subscriptions had already been received from people of various political parties. He explained that donations may be handed to members of the committee or turned over to Mr. Denman at the National Bank of Auburn, by whom the funds secured in Cayuga County will be forwarded to the National Committee. Should sufficient money be raised throughout the United States, the Harding home at Marion will be preserved and professorships will be endowed in colleges, in addition to the erection of the memorial.

BIG STORE BREATHES THE MERRY CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Santa Clause has radiated the Fower-Henderson Company that he will soon visit their store on Genesee Street and interview all good little girls and boys and take their order for the filling of their fireside stockings. The proprietors, arising to the auspiciousness of the occasion, have made extensive decorations and enlargements of their stock and the visit of the cheerful old rosy checked fellow will be made as pleasant as possible.

Knowing Santa's love for bright colors, gaily painted toys and unique presents, the Big Store has augmented its large stock and both the interior and exterior of the store breathes the Christmas spirit.

The outside of the display windows are hung with garlands of Christmas greens trimmed with red ribbons and in the children's window there shines a sparkling Christmas tree that amuses and interests both old and young. A large display of modern toys are also to be seen in this window.

The interior is also decorated with green garlands and hugh red bells and the general hustle bustle prompts one to cast an eye at the calendar and make resolutions to do their shopping early before most of the good things are gone.

Autos in Collision. Automobiles driven by Arthur Coral of Dryden and W. B. Boughton of Auburn collided on the state road between Fleming Hill and Mapleton last night. Both machines were damaged but the occupants unharmed. Report of the accident was made at the sheriff's office this noon.
